Summary

Motivated and versatile student with a strong academic background in Digital Business and Data Science, combined with a passion for innovation and technology. Adept at leveraging technical skills and creative thinking to drive results, I am enthusiastic about contributing to dynamic teams and embracing new challenges. With a track record of leadership, effective communication, and a commitment to excellence, I am poised to make a meaningful impact in roles that combine my expertise in digital strategies, data analysis, and creative content creation.

I've also developed an App with a close friend which we aim to build into a business, using languages such as Swift Flutter and services such as github and AWS and Google Authentication.
